For Learning that Lasts

When choosing instructional materials, resourceful principals look beneath the surface to discover content, organization, methods, objectives, expressed and implied attitudes.

Resourceful principals ask these questions:

1. Does the text help the pupil to increase his understanding as well as his information and skills?
2. Does it relate what he is learning to actual problems here and now?
3. Do the texts of a series provide for frequent reteaching of important points in succeeding grades?
4. Does each book in the program help the pupil to achieve a sense of success and to grow in self-confidence at each stage of learning?

SILVER BURDETT gives careful, constant attention to answering questions of this kind in its publications. Our books and guides meet the needs of today's pupils. That is why they are so widely used. We invite your evaluation of our elementary programs in:

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

The Executive Committee of the Department joins me in expressing appreciation to you, as a member, for helping to make the year 1953-54 one of the best in the history of the Department. This annual report describes briefly many of the activities of which we are very proud.

The achievements of the Department for the past year are the result of cooperative effort. We have endeavored to broaden participation in Department activities, to seek advice from many and arrive at decisions that help to provide the best possible service for the membership. Thru our publications program, the annual meeting of the Department, regional and other conferences, many of our members have made important contributions to our program.

During the year, our program emphasized improving the quality of leadership for elementary education. The theme of THE NATIONAL ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL for the year, "Time for the Job," was unusually well received by the membership. We have records which show that groups of elementary school principals are using this material for a more systematic study of their jobs. The 32nd Yearbook, Science for Today's Children, has been one of the most popular Yearbooks published by the Department. This publication met a very definite need for the improvement of science programs in the elementary school. Happy Journey, published jointly with the National School Public Relations Association, NEA, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, has had astonishing success. The wide demand for this publication indicates a real interest among elementary school principals in strengthening their programs of parent education.

The second annual winter meeting of the Department brought together a large number of our members to study problems of mutual interest and to exchange ideas. These annual meetings, which provide opportunities for developing personal acquaintances among our membership and for discussing mutual problems, are an effective force in building a stronger national organization.

The progress evidenced in building a stronger professional organization for elementary school principals has not caused the Executive Committee to lose sight of the many problems confronting our rapidly growing organization. Realizing the importance of planning for the future and meeting new needs, the Executive Committee, thru its President, has named a special committee of seven persons to study and make recommendations for our long-range program. It is anticipated that this committee will make a most helpful contribution to the future success of the Department.

We do not wish to lose sight of the fact that we have an excellent headquarters staff earnestly devoted to helping to realize our objectives. Congratulations to this group for a job well done!

As an enthusiastic member of the Department I shall maintain my active interest in its welfare, and shall look forward to its continuing success.

FROM YOUR EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

The activities among elementary school principals, as viewed from your headquarters office during the past year, show marked progress toward the kind of professionalization now so urgently needed. Elementary school principals are showing more concern for the improvement of elementary education, greater recognition of their own responsibilities in this connection, and stronger efforts to do something "active" about it. The national Department has played an important role in these great events.

Your Executive Secretary is greatly indebted to the fine leadership of your President and the Executive Committee for helping to chart the direction of Department activities. During the year we have witnessed closer cooperation of the national Department and state and local elementary school principals' associations in working toward common goals. Their response to our annual meeting is typical of the cooperation observed.

The publications of the Department, the annual meeting, regional and leadership conferences, all serve to identify common problems and to provide opportunities for the exchange of ideas that is essential for their solution. The Executive Committee is now looking forward to other activities that will help to bring about greater professional unity for elementary school principals.

The effectiveness of a professional organization such as ours depends upon the active participation of the membership. Your Executive Secretary is concerned that all members of the Department be furnished with information that will help them to understand the working of our organization and the problems with which we are confronted. Such understanding makes it possible for individual members to have a more definite part in contributing to the future welfare of our total program. This annual report is one way in which you may become informed about the work of your organization.

The growth of membership in our Department during the past year has been most gratifying. Our membership passed the national goal of 12,380 set for the school year 1953-54. The increase in membership and sales of publications has helped to provide additional income for the expansion of services. Your headquarters staff and the Executive Committee, with the advice of state representatives and others, have given most careful study to the best use of our funds.

Your Executive Secretary expresses his appreciation to the Executive Committee of the Department, state representatives, officers of state and local elementary school principals' associations, the Research Division of the NEA and all those individuals who have rendered special services in connection with our program. He is indebted, too, to members of our office staff who do not work by the clock but with a spirit of real service. Let us look forward to greater things to come.

Here's a teacher who practices what she teaches! She's buying Savings Bonds regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan in her school system, and encouraging her pupils to save through the School Savings Program for Savings Stamps. Both plans are important elements of the United States Savings Bonds program—America's greatest thrift campaign.

Millions of American youngsters are learning to save through the stamp program. The dimes and quarters they bring to school on Stamp Day each week give them a start on accumulating savings for important personal wants. Even more important, Stamp Day teaches habits of thrift, wise management of resources, good citizenship!

ANNUAL MEETING

The second annual meeting of the Department was held at the Ambassador Hotel in Atlantic City, February 11-13. Approximately 1,000 elementary school principals and other interested persons participated.

The meeting opened on February 11 at 3:30 P.M. with President Mamie Reed presiding. In keeping with the conference theme, Dr. Laura Zirbes, Professor of Education, Ohio State University, spoke on "A Balanced Curriculum for Elementary School Children." Other general sessions included a business meeting, a dinner program with Dr. Ethel Alpenfels, Professor of Education, New York University, as speaker, and a final general session with a talk by Dr. William G. Carr, Executive Secretary of the NEA, a brief business session and a conference summary.

Four periods were set aside for group discussions. During the first two periods, 16 study groups met to discuss the over-all conference theme. During the last two periods, discussions were devoted to the following curriculum areas: "How the Principal Gives Leadership in Curriculum Development," "Beginning Principals Prepare for Curriculum Improvement," "Use of Specialists for Curriculum Improvement," "Involving Parents and the Lay Public in Curriculum Planning," "Child Study as a Basis for Curriculum Development," "Research and Curriculum Planning," "Effective Procedures for Curriculum Development," "Selection of Curriculum Materials for Children and Teachers," "Evaluation Technics for the Modern Curriculum," "Curriculum Modifications for Exceptional Children," "Guidance in the Modern Elementary School," "Arithmetic in the Elementary School Curriculum," "Reading in the Elementary School Curriculum," "Communication Thru Written and Oral Expression," "Social Studies in the Elementary School Curriculum," "Helping Boys and Girls Develop World Understandings," "Science in the Elementary School Curriculum," "Art in the Elementary School Curriculum," "Music in the Elementary School Curriculum," "Providing Education for Citizenship," "Characteristics of an Effective Health Education Program."

Important features of the annual meeting were the special conferences for professors of elementary education interested in preparing elementary school principals, for presidents of elementary school principals' associations in large cities, and for state representatives and state presidents. These groups enthusiastically requested opportunity to meet again at the next annual meeting. Special reports on these conferences were prepared and distributed to the participants.

BUSINESS MEETING

The meeting opened at 9:15 A.M., February 12, with President Mamie Reed presiding. Since the minutes of the last annual business meeting had been printed and made available to the membership, it was agreed that the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting should be omitted.

The Executive Secretary gave a brief report on Department activities and plans. He emphasized the following points:

> A professional organization becomes a stronger and more effective instrument as its members become acquainted with one another on a nationwide basis. Our national meetings offer an excellent opportunity for elementary school principals to meet and get acquainted with their fellow principals from all parts of the country.
> There is strong need to keep our attention focused on the main purpose of the Department—better education for young children. The goal of improved learning experiences should not be lost sight of in the midst of technical problems pertaining to professional association work.
> There is need to emphasize, in our professional association work at the local, state and national levels, activities that will improve our methods and technics for working more closely and effectively with parents and the lay public. The present attacks on public education point out a need for greater effort in this area.
> There is need for greater interest and participation in professional association work among elementary school principals at the local, state and national levels. Only about one-third of our elementary school principals are members of the national Department.
> National meetings of the Department, such as this one, are needed to create professional spirit and pride. Your Department is trying to provide the best possible program for the annual meeting—the kind of program that will meet a wide variety of interests.

There is need for increased revenue so that the Department may provide the most valuable service for its members. Increased membership helps our financial situation because a larger membership can be served at a lower cost per person. For example, the major cost for publications is in the base cost for preparation of materials right up to the point of actual printing. This cost is constant, regardless of the number of persons to be served. Divided among few members, the cost of service per person comes high; divided among many, the cost goes down. This simply means that the same service can be provided at a lower unit cost and that more of the membership dollar is available for additional or improved service.

There is need to utilize all available resources to strengthen our local and state associations for elementary school principals. The national Department grows along with the local and state groups. School budgets and school policy are made locally and on a state basis. State and local associations are directly concerned with these matters. The national Department serves as a medium for exchange of ideas, helps to develop policy, and provides elementary school principals with help for their problems.

The Executive Committee of the Department has demonstrated a real interest in having the Department provide the best program possible for the membership.

Mrs. Roberta Barnes, principal of Truesdell Elementary School, Washington, D. C., gave a summary of reports resulting from the use of the study guide, You Are Invited to Help Make National Policies. Her report indicated that about 100 local and state groups of elementary school principals participated in the project, with several thousand people involved. The material received showed:

Plank One: Personal qualities—much material
Plank Two: Pre-service preparation—more debatable issues of discussion
Plank Three: Contribution to human knowledge—little material received
Plank Four: Responsible for development of education program—much material needed
Plank Five: Competence in continuous development—much material received
Plank Six: Professional association work—little material received
Plank Seven: High ethical standards—good and specific material received
Plank Eight: Financial status—much material received

The report reflected great interest among elementary school principals for improving their professional status. This report will be made available in printed form at a later date.

Miss Neubauer, Editor of THE NATIONAL ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL, presented plans for the balance of the current year and for the year ahead.

Reference was made to the 1954 Yearbook, Guidance for Today's Children, and to a special publication for parents in the area of reading. The latter publication, Janie Learns to Read, is to be similar in format to Happy Journey and is designed to help parents understand how children learn to read. It will be available in the fall.

"Let's Look at Our Schools" was presented as the theme for next year's magazines. Thru the series of issues being planned, the Department hopes to offer a program that can serve as a stimulus and guide for tackling some of the basic problems in education. "Let's Look at Our Schools" will provide a series of issues designed to help parents and school personnel look at the schools in the light of what they expect them to do for children, how well the job is being done, and what it takes to do a really good job.

He stated that this was the first Nominating Committee selected under the revised Constitution and Bylaws, that the Committee was fully aware of its responsibilities and attempted to operate in keeping with the evolutionary changes being made in the organization of the Department. Careful consideration was given by the Committee to all persons recommended for a place on the ballot. The Nominating Committee attempted to

The President requested that copies of the resolution be distributed to the members present. Mrs. Ruth Kaiser, secretary for the business meeting, was instructed to read the resolution. The following statement, incorporating the resolution, was read:

The Oregon Elementary Principals Association, represented by Miss Mathilda Gilles, offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Be it resolved that the following amendments to the new constitution be studied during the ensuing year and considered for adoption at the next annual business meeting of the national Department of Elementary School Principals:

Amendment: Article III, Section 2

The Executive Committee shall consist of the president, president-elect, vice-president, and nine district representatives.

The president, president-elect, and vice-president shall be elected from the country at large.

The nine district representatives shall be elected, one from each of nine geographical districts, and hold office for three years, three members retiring each year.

For the purposes of geographical representation in the election of district representatives, there shall be set up within the United States nine districts. Districts shall be created thru a representative commission of nine members appointed by the Executive Secretary of the national Department of Elementary School Principals.

District representatives shall be elected by written ballot within each district by those who are members of the national Department of Elementary School Principals residing within the district.

Balloting shall be done as the balloting is done for the members elected from the country at large.

In case a district fails to assume its responsibility in the election of a district representative from within the district, the Nominating Committee of the national Department of Elementary School Principals shall be empowered to select two or more candidates from within that district whose names shall be placed on the ballot and voted on by the members within the district at the annual general election of national officers.

Amendment: Article IV, Elections

The officers—president, president-elect, and vice-president—shall be elected by vote of individual members in the following manner:

Section 1. At the annual meeting a Nominating Committee of five members (none of whom shall be a member of the Executive Committee) shall be elected by the Executive Committee to serve one year, consideration being given to qualifications and geographical representation. These names shall be published at least four months prior to the next annual meeting.

Section 2. At least two names shall be submitted by the Nominating Committee for the offices of president, president-elect, and vice-president, giving consideration to qualifications and geographical representation. Information concerning the candidates shall be included with the ballot. Space shall be provided for write-in votes.

Be it resolved further that before the time of adoption of the above proposed amendments, Article IV, Section 5, be rewritten to provide a workable plan for adding three district representatives to the Executive Committee.

Oregon Elementary Principals Association

The President called to the attention of the members the provision in the Department's Constitution and Bylaws which limits individual remarks on any issue to five minutes.

Motion was made by Lloyd Lewis of Oregon, seconded by Bert Chappell of California, that this resolution be adopted and submitted to the Department's membership for vote.

Motion was made by Robert Chenault of Tennessee, seconded by David Simpson of Pennsylvania, that this resolution be tabled. A rising vote was requested by the President. The vote was 209 for tabling the resolution, and 109 against. Motion passed.

Lloyd Lewis of Oregon requested permission to make a statement. He related briefly the interest of those who had proposed the resolution and the concern for a study of the problems involved. He expressed a desire for a thoro study of the problem and the opportunity for the entire membership to express themselves on the matter.

Robert Chenault requested time for a statement concerning the resolution. He asked the President if the Executive Committee had expressed itself as to the merits of the resolution. The President reported that the Executive Committee had voted eight to one as not favoring the resolution, the chairman not voting. Mr. Chenault emphasized the need for making the Department truly national in character and expressed the belief that those who served on the Executive Committee should be elected by the entire membership, since their decisions were national in character and effect. The presiding officer, Miss Reed, declared Mr. Chenault out of order (debating a tabled resolution).

Michael Cabot of New Jersey asked about plans for making a conference report available. He expressed concern for having reports on study groups—particularly any recommendations made. The Executive Secretary, Robert Eaves, explained that the matter had been discussed by the Executive Committee and that it was agreed that the major addresses would be made available but that no plans were made to prepare reports on discussion groups for wide circulation. He also mentioned time and expense involved as compared with the value.

Mr. Cabot of New Jersey moved, seconded by Henry Fox of Florida, that conference reports be prepared and be made available to conference participants. Albert Wright of Maryland commented that the chief value of meeting was that of sharing experiences. Motion lost.

Donald Cleland of California moved that the resolution pertaining to changing the Constitution and Bylaws presented earlier in the meeting be removed from the table. Seconded by Mr. Fox of Florida. Motion lost.

The presiding officer, President Reed, called for other business. There was no response.

Eva Pinkston, Executive Secretary Emeritus, was recognized by the President, and applauded.

An announcement was made of the next annual meeting, March 16-19, 1955, in Chicago, Illinois.

Meeting adjourned.

Resolutions Adopted

At the final general session at 2 P.M. Saturday, February 13, President Mamie Reed declared the meeting to be in business session for presentation of the report of the Resolutions Committee. The following resolutions were presented and adopted:

I. The Department of Elementary School Principles wishes to reaffirm its belief that the function of education in this country is to promote the growth and development of children so that they may adjust to and contribute to a democratic society. We believe that the elementary school principal has strong obligations to that society thru the profession he serves. He must provide professional leadership for education; he must also provide moral and spiritual leadership for his school and community. And he must constantly evaluate the quality and effectiveness of his leadership.

We believe that our schools are strengthening allegiance to our democratic form of government by giving children experience in democratic procedures and practices. And we believe that the principal, by his own behavior in his relations with children, with teachers, with all people, must demonstrate his own firm belief in the democratic way of life.

II. We, the Department of Elementary School Principals, believe these things:

1. That the effectiveness of a teacher is closely related to the size of the class and to the total size of the school. We believe that the interest of the child can best be served when the maximum class size is 25 and the size of the individual school is limited to 500 pupils.
2. That the principal's major responsibility is a professional responsibility. His time and his energies should be freed for and used for meeting that responsibility. Therefore, we recommend that every school have some secretarial help to afford the principal more adequate time for supervision and for other professional responsibilities. We believe that secretarial help provided for the school will be of benefit, both directly and indirectly, to teachers as well as to the principal.

III. We believe that the quality of leadership which the elementary school principal can provide for teachers and for children depends in part upon appropriate training and experience. Therefore, we recommend that the principal have attained a Master's Degree in administration and supervision and have successful experience in elementary teaching. We also recommend that the principal actively further his professional competency thru a planned in-service training program.

We commend state and local associations for their successful efforts to up-grade certification and recommend that each state accept responsibility for this certification. Since we believe in the principle of equal pay for equal responsibility, we recommend that the same salary be paid elementary and secondary principals with comparable qualifications.

IV. On recommendation of state representatives to the national Department, and presidents of state associations, the following resolution is presented:

Retirement allowances for retired teachers are small and are now subject to Federal taxation at a rate higher than the rate applicable to retirement incomes of many other groups. This tax discrimination is unjust to teachers and adds to the difficulty of maintaining high quality teaching staffs in the public schools. H. R. 5180, now before the House Ways and Means Committee, proposes to correct this inequity by increasing allowable tax exemptions to a uniform basis for all retired persons. The national Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, urges the Congress and President of the United States to support this measure.

V. With the full realization that the Department of Elementary School Principals is a part of the National Education Association and only thru cooperative work can we expect to accomplish our goal of better schools for our children, we thank the National Education Association for its many helps and services thru the years.

Our special thanks go to the elementary school principals of New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania for helping with plans for this annual meeting of the Department.

Respectfully submitted,

At the final session of the Executive Committee on Saturday evening, February 13, two of the newly-elected officers—Ethel Nash, President, and Ray Smith, Member-at-large of the Executive Committee—were present. Miss Nash expressed her interest in soliciting the help of everyone in order to do the best possible job as President for 1954-55.

Mathilda Gilles commented on the conference for professors of elementary education held as part of the annual meeting. She urged that the Department continue this type of activity and follow thru as nearly as possible recommendations of the group for further work toward preparation for the elementary school principalship.

The Executive Committee expressed its interest in continuing the conferences for presidents of elementary school principals' associations in large cities and for state representatives and presidents of state elementary school principals' associations. It was felt that these conferences help build a better spirit of cooperation in getting all groups concerned working toward common goals.

There was a brief discussion on improving future annual meetings.

Mathilda Gilles presented a set of slides showing the luncheon program in the Richmond School in Salem, Oregon, where she is principal. It was suggested that arrangements should be made for many others to share the experiences of becoming acquainted with this program.

Alice Jeffords expressed appreciation for President Reed's fine work as president of the Department. President Reed thanked the Executive Committee for its excellent cooperation. Edwon L. Riggs, R. L. Booker, Mrs. Johanna Havlick, and Orlan Fowler, retiring members of the Executive Committee, briefly mentioned the broadening experiences they enjoyed in serving as members of the Executive Committee. The Executive Secretary expressed his appreciation for the excellent cooperation received from the Executive Committee.

CONFERENCES

Regional Conference in Massachusetts

Approximately 300 elementary school principals and others participated in the regional conference sponsored by the Department and held at the Statler Hotel, Boston, Massachusetts, May 6-8, 1954. The following persons represented the Executive Committee of the Department at the conference: Mamie Reed, President of the Department and Principal of Ladue School, St. Louis County, Missouri; Alice Jeffords, Member-at-large of the Executive Committee and Principal of the New Franklin School, Portsmouth, New Hampshire. Ruth Dority, District Representative of the Department and Principal of the Mason-Rice School, Newton, Massachusetts, served as general chairman of the conference. The presidents of state elementary school principals' associations and state representatives for the New England area served as members of the conference planning committee. The headquarters staff assisted with all conference activities.

Speakers for the general sessions were: Linwood Chase, Dean, School of Education, Boston University; Mrs. Mildred H. Mahoney, Chairman, Commission Against Discrimination, The Commonwealth of Massachusetts; and Salom Rizk, Writer, Lecturer, and Author of the "Syrian Yankee."

The theme for the conference was "The Leadership Role of the Elementary School Principal." Fourteen study groups discussed various phases of this theme as follows: "The Principal as an Instructional Leader," "The Principal and the In-service Education of Teachers," "The Principal's Responsibility for School Management," "The Principal's Role in the Utilization of Community Resources," "The Principal and the Reading Program," "The Principal's Role in Working With Parents," "The Principal's Responsibility for a Good School Health Program," "The Principal and the Beginning Teacher," "The Principal as a Community Leader," "The Principal and the Development of Moral and Spiritual Values," "The Principal's Role in the Evaluation of Instruction," "The Principal's Role in the Development of School Policy," "The Principal's Role in the Guidance Program," "The Principal's Role in Maintaining Good Morale and Professional Spirit."

The elementary school principals in Boston and surrounding communities gave valuable assistance in helping with conference activities.

Conferences for Leaders

In keeping with the policy of the Department, regional conferences for state representatives and presidents of state elementary school principals' associations were held in Boston, Massachusetts; Washington, D. C.; Atlanta, Georgia; New Orleans, Louisiana; Des Moines, Iowa; and Spokane, Washington.

The purpose of these conferences was to provide an opportunity for discussion of problems related to the work of our professional associations—local, state and national. Procedures for improving our publications, for increasing membership in professional associations, and projects for improving the status of the elementary school principalship were important items on the agenda. These small conferences sponsored by the Department during the past few years have resulted in improved relationships between state associations of elementary school principals and the national Department. They have provided opportunities for increased professional awareness and for strengthening professional association activities among elementary school principals at all levels. Members of the Executive Committee and the headquarters staff were active in carrying out the plans for these conferences.

DEPARTMENT PUBLICATIONS

Yearbook

Science for Today's Children, the Thirty-Second Yearbook (Vol. XXXIII, No. 1), was published in September 1953. The response, both in sales and in enthusiastic comments, indicates that this book is meeting a real need in science education. It is being used by teachers, principals and supervisors in elementary schools. It is also being used in teacher training institutions thruout the country. Reviews of this Yearbook have been most favorable and have appeared in popular magazines as well as in professional journals.

Magazine

THE NATIONAL ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL (Vol. XXXIII, Nos. 2-6). This was the second year for the magazine in its enlarged and revised form. The theme for the year was "Time for the Job." Themes for the individual issues were: October—"The Principal Studies His Job"; December— "The Resourceful Principal Finds Time for the Job"; February—"Conferences—Individual and Group"; April—"Effective Written Communication"; May—"Good School Management."

The response to the magazine has been excellent. In answer to a number of requests, the theme articles of this year's magazines were compiled and reprinted in one volume. Further information about this publication is included under "Special Bulletins."

The Editorial Advisory Board, thru meetings and correspondence, has given guidance in the selection and development of areas to be treated in the magazine.

Special Publications

Happy Journey, 32 pages. May 1953. This is a joint publication of the Department of Elementary School Principals, NEA, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the National School Public Relations Association, NEA. Happy Journey was originally intended to be the special bulletin for Department members in 1953-54. However, since the publication date was earlier than anticipated, the pamphlet was distributed in the spring of 1953 to all 1952-53 members. It was also sent to all new members in 1953-54. Happy Journey has proved to be the largest selling publication ever issued by the NEA. Over 300,000 copies had been distributed by the end of July this year.

Time for the Job. June 1954. 96 pages. This is a "handbook for principals" and is composed of the theme sections of THE NATIONAL ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL for 1953-54. Orders for 1000 copies had been received in advance of the June 1 publication date. Time for the Job is not a part of the membership service but is for sale at a cost of $1.25 for single copies with the regular NEA discount for quantity orders.

Department Newsletter

The Newsletter is a mimeographed publication, issued monthly from October thru June. It is prepared in the headquarters office and sent to state and district representatives, state presidents, editors of state association newsletters and editors of state education journals. It reports news about the activities of state and local associations of elementary school principals. It contains information about significant happenings in elementary education, with special emphasis on items that are closely related to the elementary principalship. One of the major purposes of the Newsletter is to provide information to persons who are in a position to disseminate the material widely, thru state and local meetings and thru state and local publications.

RELATIONSHIPS WITH STATE AND LOCAL ASSOCIATIONS OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOL PRINCIPALS

The Department of Elementary School Principals does not have affiliated local and state groups of elementary school principals. However, special effort is made to develop a friendly working relationship with all those groups directly concerned with the elementary school principalship. Communications with these groups have involved exchange of materials, descriptions of programs now in action, answers to communications requesting help, recommendations for participation in meetings sponsored by the national Department, provision of field services, and advice on articles for the yearbook and THE NATIONAL ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL.

During the annual meeting of the Department, a special conference was arranged for presidents of state elementary school principals' associations and state representatives to discuss matters of mutual interest. Also, a similar conference was provided for the presidents of elementary school principals' associations in large cities. Such activities as these have created a feeling of common purpose and interest in working together for the improvement of elementary education and improved status for the elementary school principalship.

The special leadership conferences sponsored by the Department during the year and the opportunities provided for these leaders to meet together at national meetings of the Department have greatly increased acquaintance among state leaders and a feeling of closeness toward activities of the national Department.

THE NATIONAL ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL provides a section for news from state and local associations. Many of these items are selected from state newsletters received at the headquarters office. This news section in the magazine provides state and local leaders with information about programs of interest to them and often suggests sources of help for projects they may wish to develop.

Exhibits

The headquarters office has provided exhibit material for local, state, and regional conferences of elementary school principals. A photographic panel emphasizing the responsibilities of the elementary school principal, collections of Department publications, and newsletters from state elementary school principals' associations have been provided for these displays. This service is offered by the national Department on request.

Field Services

The Department provides limited field services for regional, state and local elementary school principals' groups. In 1953-54, President Reed, represented the Department at several important meetings. Other members of the Department's Executive Committee participated in our annual meeting and in regional conferences held for elementary school principals. One extended field service trip for Dorothy Neubauer, Editor of THE NATIONAL ELEMENTARY PRINCIPAL was arranged. She participated in meetings held in Des Moines, Iowa; San Diego, California; and El Paso, Texas.

The policy of the Department provides for representation at meetings of elementary school principals and related groups in accordance with the amount of money available for this service.

RELATIONSHIP WITH NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

The Department is an integral part of the National Education Association. The NEA and all its departments are working toward one major goal—better education for all. The activities of the NEA and its departments are important to each other. The Department of Elementary School Principals has demonstrated in various ways, its interest in the total NEA program. The NEA's interest in our Department and in other departments is reflected in its many services. Here are typical examples of cooperation between the Department of Elementary School Principals and the NEA during the past year:

In support of the NEA—

The Department paid $1000 from its current expenses to the NEA Building Fund.

In early 1953 the Department mailed letters to all of its members in several states, encouraging them to promote NEA membership among their faculties.

The Executive Secretary served on NEA staff Membership Committee.

The Department membership blank carries a statement to remind members of NEA dues.

The Department provided a plan and encouraged members to contribute to the NEA Building Fund. A special subscription card was printed by the Department for this purpose. The Department has a special account labeled "NEA Building Fund."

Ways of achieving a more united profession have been discussed at leadership conferences and at regional meetings of the Department.

In support of the DESP—

The Division of Research assumes the major responsibility for preparation of Department yearbooks. This includes services of an Assistant Director of Research, or, in some instances, the Director, who has worked with the Yearbook Committee in planning yearbook projects, selecting, organizing, and editing materials. In terms of cost, this service is equivalent to from $8000 to $12,000 per year, depending on the nature of the yearbook project.

The Division of Research frequently replies to communications received by the Department requesting information on various phases of the educational program.

The NEA provides office space, equipment, lights, local telephone service, heat and janitorial service. (Part of the furniture belongs to the Department.)

Further efforts are being made to develop strength thru joint action. The Department, thru its President and Executive Secretary, participated in a meeting at headquarters office for presidents and staff members of NEA Departments, to discuss problems of mutual interest and cooperation with the total NEA program. The Executive Committee of the Department has on many occasions expressed its concern for a more unified profession, particularly in view of new demands on education and the need for public support to meet these demands.

All Pupils Write So Much Better!

When Taught this New Easy Way

You will be complimented and delighted to see how the average quality of your pupils' handwriting is raised throughout all grades when you use—

CORRELATION in HANDWRITING

by Frank N. Freeman, Ph.D.

This progressive, modern plan is based on the Language Arts approach. It holds the child's interest from the first grade, starting with simple printing up to finished cursive writing in the eighth grade. By careful psychological guidance, this course helps develop good students—good citizens—as well as good writers.

Provision is made for individual differences in pupils—including the left handed child.

The entire program is surprisingly economical including two teaching aids that are truly professional.

FOR BEGINNERS

UNITED STATES—Simplified For Beginners

By C. A. Burkhart  Size, 64 by 54 inches  Hand mounted on muslin

Insures Map Reading Readiness

This is a beginner's map—large, simplified, self-explanatory . . . with artistic, bold colors that appeal to children. An important feature of the map is a very realistic, relief-like background portraying the great eastern and western mountains.

Every aspect of this map was built on a sound pedagogical basis . . . for it is in the beginning grades that political maps are most closely related to childhood experiences. Children learn first about their own locality—the local political divisions, nearby cities and states, and finally cities and states far away. Cities and states, highways, railroads, airplane routes and steamship routes are all shown on the new beginners' map of the United States.

A Legend for Each Pupil

Each child should have his own legend for close-up use while the teacher is presenting the meanings of map symbols and geographic terms. Twenty-five copies of the illustrated legend are given free with each map.

No. 02. Single map with spring roller, steel board, dustproof, and bottom molding ..... $21.25

By Zoe A. Thralls  Five Charts  Size, 44 by 56 inches

The Series Consists of Five Charts:

MS1 Small Signs on a Map Stand for Big Things on the Earth
MS2 How We Show on a Map Some Things Made by Nature
MS3 How We Show on a Map Some Things Made by People
MS5 How We Show the Surface of the Earth on a Map

In the Thrall's Series the basic map symbols are presented with accompanying photographs of what the symbols represent. The pupils learn to associate map symbols with mental images of reality in progressive degree of difficulty.

No. 30 Multiple Chart Holder  5 Charts, On Heavy Map Paper ..... $44.50
